

Includes hundreds of deck plan drawing symbols and room layouts used in creating the Starship Geomorphs book. Use as inspiration to create your own unique starship, space station, starport, or building designs.

Ideal for creating custom plans printed for use with miniatures or capturing images for use with virtual table top systems.

Introduction

This book is a collection of the many symbols and room blocks that were created while making the Starships Geomorph book. Since not all drawings in that book were made into blocks, this book will not contain everything included in the geomorphs book. However, I have also included a few never before seen spaces - mostly Bridges and Engineering for additional variety.

How to use this book

While the geomorphs were created to assist gamers by providing a quick deck plan solution to their needs, they are not - nor were they intended to be - a substitute for real starship design per the Traveller rules. I decided to make these symbols available to the more um... "artistically challenged" starship designers as a shortcut to help them realize their designs. The added benefit is that those who want to just print out parts for use with miniatures or virtual tabletop systems can do so.

For the CAD monkeys out there (I'm not using that term derogatorily - I am one of you!) I am also making an AutoCAD .DWG file of the symbols available, as well as the .CTB file for linewidth settings. The more ambitious should be able to create their own starship deck plans or geomorphs in my drawing style with little difficulty.

For those with the inclination to make images for use with virtual table top systems, permission is granted to copy and share as you like so long as it is for non-commercial purposes. Proper credit and links to my blog are appreciated. (www.travellerrpgblog.blogspot.com)

Printing for cutouts and miniature use

I'm going to assume anyone interested enough in obtaining this book is already familiar with the Starships Geomorph book. See pages 16 & 17 of the PDF version of that book for ideas on how to print for use as cutouts or for use with miniatures.
